

MGM, Morales de Giles Mariscal architects

Jose Morales, Sara de Giles and Juan González Mariscal are appreciated teachers, visitors and lecturers at various universities and institutions in Spain and abroad. They have received numerous awards and recognitions from around the world.

PHOTOS: MGM ARQUITECTOS

José Morales

1960	Born in Seville
1985	Graduated by the ETSA. Seville.
1988	Doctor Architect by the ETSA of Seville.
1985–1989	Associate Professor Department of Architectural Projects, ETSA Seville
Since 1990	Professor of Architectural Projects Department, ETSA Seville
since 2004	Main Professor Department of Architectural Projects, ETSA Seville

Jose Morales Sanchez, (Seville, 1960) graduated as an architect from the Seville School of Architecture (ETSAS). In 1988 he obtained the qualification of Doctor of Architecture and in 2004 the professorship of the architectural Design Department of the University of Seville. He has given lectures and been a guest professor at many Spanish and international universities, as the Instituto Universitario di Architettura in Venice, the Technische Universitat in Berlin, the Metropolitan University in London or the University of Texas at Arlington. In 2006 he won the first FAD Thought and Criticism Award for his book La disolución de la estancia: transformaciones domesticas 1930–1960 (Rueda, Madrid, 2005).

Sara de Giles

1972	Born in Seville
1998	Graduated by the ETSA. Seville.
Since 1999	Associate Professor Department of Architectural Projects, ETSA Seville.

Sara de Giles (Seville, 1972) graduated as an architect from ETSAS and is an assistant lecturer in the Architectural Design Department of the University of Seville. She has given lectures and been a guest professor at many Spanish and international universities, as the Federico Santa María Technical University in Valparaiso, the Irish Architectural Association / Cervantes Institute in Dublin or the Institut Français d'Architecture in Paris.

Juan González Mariscal

1961	Born in Seville
1986	Graduated by the ETSA. Seville.
Since 1986	Associate Professor Department of Architectural Projects, ETSA Seville.

Juan Gonzalez Mariscal (Seville 1961) graduated as an architect from ETSAS and is an assistant lecturer in the Architectural Design Department of the University of Seville. He has given lectures and been a guest professor at many Spanish and international universities, as the Instituto Universitario di Architettura in Venice, the Aguascalientes University in Guadalajara and the Bogota University.

Publications

- 2006 Scenic space in Nijar. Morales-Giles-Mariscal. Lampreave Publisher. The book contains articles written by the following authors: Aarón Betsky, Jose Ramon Moreno Perez, Santiago Cirujeda, Ciro Najle, Frits van Dongen, Manuel Gausa and Jesus Irisarri Castro, Ricardo Devesa.
- 2009 CASA DEL PLATANO. Micrografías. Rehabilitación de edificio de 7 viviendas de realojo en "el pópulo". Editorial: Irreversible editores, Almería
- 2009 MONOGRAFIA 2G nº 51, publication of the works: San Jerónimo, Ramos Carrión, el Garrobo, Nijar, Monte Hacho, Olavide, Jerez, Cádiz, Calle Real, Úbeda, Holos, Convento, COA Córdoba, Portos, Hospital. Edita: Gustavo Gili.