Concrete Structure Award 50 Years

MAP LIST

The Concrete Structure of the Year has been awarded in Finland since 1970. In 2020 the award celebrates its 50th anniversary. The Finnish Concrete Industry awards the prize to a Finnish construction project with an innovative approach to the use of concrete. Throughout the history of the award, many of the winners have been architecturally significant public projects that reflect their time.

COMPETITION 1998
COMPLETION 2007

The turn of the new millennium was the moment of entry for many young Finnish architectural practices. One of the newcomers was JKMM Architects whose approach was fresh and free of prejudice and who gained unforeseen success in architectural competitions.
